Pedal to Properties helps raise $2,100 for Valmont Bike Park

BOULDER — Pedal to Properties announced today that its recent fundraiser took in $2,100 to support the Valmont Bike Park Project with the help of the Boulder Mountainbike Alliance. The money will help finish the ambitious bike park project at Airport and Valmont roads. The park, which is under construction, will include mountain bike, cyclocross and BMX trails for riders of all abilities.

Pedal to Properties, a Boulder-based real estate firm with many cyclists on its staff, hosted the event at its Pearl Street office on Dec. 10 and donated $1,000 to the park. Attendees raised another $1,100 through donations and raffle tickets. The party at Pedal to Properties was a key fundraiser in the campaign that helped supporters of the Valmont Bike Project meet their goal of raising $25,000. As part of the campaign, the Gates Family Foundation doubled that total with $25,000 in matching funds.

“The Valmont Bike Park is a great project that many of us at Pedal to Properties care about,” said Matt Kolb, the founder of Pedal to Properties. “We thought it would be fun to team up with the Boulder Mountainbike Alliance and do a fundraiser instead of a typical holiday party. This park is going to be a heck of a gift to the community when it’s finished.”
